

BLOODY DAY'S WORK AT URBANA, OHIO

YESTERDAY'S AFFAIR, A DIS- GRACE TO THE STATE.

Three Men Dead, Two Dying, and Many Seriously Hurt—The Prisoner Finally Taken From the Jail and Hanged—Governor Bushnell Regrets that the Affair Occurred.

Urbana, Ohio, June 5.—Three men dead, two fatally hurt and ten others more or less seriously injured is the terrible result of the riot early Friday morning which has struck dismay and grief to the hearts of Urbana's people. All but one are dead by the bullets from the guns of the Ohio National Guard, the local company of which had come to defend the brute, Charles Mitchell (colored). The other is Mitchell himself, whose body was hanged from a tree four hours after the militia had done such deadly work, in the jail yard. Then the militia, terrified at what they had done, and fearing to remain concealed in the jail longer, disguised themselves in citizens' clothes, and one by one stole unnoticed out of the side door and sought places of safety.

The militia fired upon the mob of 1,500 people at 2:30 o'clock in the morning. At 7:30 Mitchell was taken from his cell, kicked and cuffed down the stairs and out of doors to the nearest tree, and, more dead than alive, was strung up over the heads of the enraged people. For an hour his lifeless body was left suspended, and then, by the order of the mayor, was cut down and placed in a wooden box. The victims of the militia's work had been taken to their homes, and the wounded were cared for. The anger of the citizens, having satisfied itself in regard to Mitchell, is now turned toward the militia, and many threats are made. It is feared more trouble and bloodshed will follow.

The dead from the shooting are:
HARVEY BELL, Urbana.
UPTON BAKER, farmer north of Urbana.

Fatally wounded:
WESLEY BOWEN, Cable; shot in the hip.

ZACH WANK, Urbana, shot in the groin and leg.

Less seriously wounded:
Dennis Graney, Urbana; right foot: slight.

Dr. Charles Thompson, North Lewisburg; head: slight.

S. S. Deaton, Urbana, prosecuting attorney; leg: slight.

Gus Weiser, Urbana; in the face: painful.

Ray Dickerson, Urbana; shoulder: serious.

George Ellicott; hurt on the chin.

All the victims were innocent citizens who were spectators on the scene of excitement. In addition to this list it is feared that Mrs. Eliza Gaumer, who was assaulted by the negro, will not recover, and several of the injured are in a serious condition. Besides this list of casualties, there is such intense feeling against some of the officials that further complications are apprehended. Of the wounded several of them will be crippled for life and will be living reminders of the trouble.

One week ago Mrs. Gaumer was assaulted by Mitchell, who was acting as a porter at the Sowles hotel. After the crime the report was given out that Mitchell had attempted to make Mrs. Gaumer sign a check for $500 in his favor, but this was done to prevent trouble from the people, as mob violence was feared. Mrs. Gaumer is the editor and proprietor of the Champion Democrat, which she has managed with splendid success since the death of her husband, the late Dr. T. M. Gaumer. She is a sister-in-law of C. N. Gaumer of Mansfield and D. H. Gaumer of Janesville.

Despite the efforts to keep the matter secret, it became known to the citizens. Mrs. Gaumer's condition became serious. The negro was first held for robbery, but on last Wednesday he was arraigned for assault. Mrs. Gaumer was unable to appear in court and the hearing was held at her home.

Soon after the identification on Wednesday at Mrs. Gaumer's home there was talk of a daylight lynching. Crowds surrounded the jail that night and the sheriff and the local militia had trouble all night in protecting Mitchell. Thursday a grand jury was impeached and it soon returned an indictment. Mitchell, disguised in a soldier's uniform, was brought from jail into court. He waived the reading of the indictment, pleaded guilty and was promptly sentenced to twenty years in the penitentiary, the limit for such a crime.

The trial was over before 9 o'clock last night, and an attempt was made to take Mitchell to Columbus on the train at 10 p. m., but the crowds were about the court house and jail, and when the carriage drove up the mob made a rush for the yard. The military drove them back, but the crowd soon increased in fury as well as in numbers, so that Sheriff McLean and the troops had all they could do to hold the fort at the jail, and the trip to Columbus was given up before the departure of the last train.

The mob at the jail grew in numbers. There was a continual uproar of cheers and cries of "Hang him!" A man with a sledge-hammer worked his way through the crowd, and a rush was made toward the court house gate. Then the man with the sledge-hammer darted out of the crowd and went toward the rear of the jail. He was followed by not over twenty armed men. This little band entered the jail yard from the rear and approached the side door. Five or six men stood on the south steps as the man with the sledge-hammer brought it against the door with terrific force, breaking it in. This was the signal for the firing by the guards, who were stationed inside the south door of the jail. Twenty volleys at least were fired by the guards. Strange to say, only one man was killed at the door through which the militia fired, although the guards shot to kill. Many in the crowd thought the troops were firing blanks, and were about to renew the attack when they were startled by the sight of the dead and injured being carried away. The crowd then ran in every direction in an endeavor to escape the rain of lead.

Everybody in the city was out when the lynching occurred, and in the bright daylight no masks were worn. The local militia had been on duty two nights, and they did the shooting. Gov. Bushnell had been asked for more troops during the night, and before 7 a. m. a company from Springfield arrived. Just then the local company was withdrawn from the jail. Mayor Ganson met the Springfield company en route from the depot, and sent these troops back, saying they were not wanted. The mob, seeing the way open, then secured a large sledge hammer and broke for the jail. The hammer was not needed, as Sheriff McLean delivered the keys, and the crowd soon found Mitchell's cell.

Women and children, as well as a multitude of men, witnessed the lynching. There was no attempt at disguise or secrecy. The assemblage in the public square was as open as any public meeting that had ever been held in that place. The local militia company, alive to the overwhelming public feeling against them, offered no resistance when the mob broke into the jail nor when the lynching was going on, and the Springfield company had been counter-marched to the depot.

The victims of the shooting are among Urbana's best-known and respected citizens. Harry Bell, who was instantly killed, was standing in front of the jail, leaning on the fence watching the mob when the firing began. Young Bell was struck on the right temple during the first volley. He dropped over dead with a groan.

Sheriff McLean says he did not give the captain instruction to fire. He claims he merely ordered Capt. Leonard to protect the prisoner. The sheriff said the troops did not fire until five shots were first fired from the outside. These shots harmed no one. Then it was that the fatal order to fire was given.

Affidavits have been sworn out this morning against Sheriff McLean, Capt. Leonard and members of his company for manslaughter.

While the mob was taking Mitchell from the jail all the other prisoners escaped except Z. T. Lewis. The sheriff had placed them in cells to prevent their escape, but in some way they succeeded in breaking loose.

Gov. Bushnell was attending an encampment at Wooster when he received a telegram from the officials at Urbana. He at once departed for this city, and reached here soon afterward. After viewing the situation he left for Columbus.

Bushnell Regrets the Affair.
Columbus, Ohio, June 5.—Gov. Bushnell came home Friday afternoon. He was met by an Urbana delegation, who asked him to send troops to protect their sheriff, but the governor assured them that the sheriff had refused aid. "I blush for the name of my state," said the governor, "when I think of this matter, but investigation will show that I was not derelict in my duties."

Death in a Storm in New York.

Utica, N. Y., June 5.—A cyclone storm swept over a territory about twenty miles long and a half-mile wide in the western central part of this county Friday. Great damage was done by the wind, especially in the town of Westmoreland, where at least half a dozen barns were blown down and several houses were moved from their foundations. In one barn Mrs. Charles Cook, with her 6-year-old son, took refuge. The building fell in the storm, and Mrs. Cook was instantly killed and the boy crushed so badly that he cannot live.

THE TRADE REVIEW BY DUN & COMPANY

PROSPEROUS TIMES SEEM TO BE AT HAND.

Dunn Declares the Volume of Business Now Exceeds That of 1892—Small Number of Failures For the Month—Crop Prospects Are Very Good.

New York, June 5.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says: "The statement of failures in May by branches of business gives much encouragement. In amount of defaulted liabilities the month was the smallest since September, 1895; in manufacturing liabilities the smallest since November, 1895, and in trading liabilities the smallest since September, 1894, except the last month. The statement that, except for the temporary depression in prices, the volume of business transacted is now larger than it was in 1892—the year of prosperity—has been questioned by some. But a comparison of prices this week in the leading branches of manufacture not only confirms that view, but shows a remarkable similarity to the course of prices in the earlier months of 1879, when the most wonderful advance in production and prices ever known in this or any other country was close at hand.

Reports from all parts of the country now show that retail distribution of products is unusually large and increasing. There is no improvement in the market for farm products. Cotton is not higher, and the belief that the next crop will be large in spite of the floods, is general, while the demand for goods does not change, although in this country it is large enough to keep the market for most goods steady. Nor is there any satisfactory demand for woolen goods, and the sales of wool for the week have been only 5,835,900 pounds. The iron industry is apparently expanding production and is certainly getting larger contracts, in part because of very low prices. The rail mills are all full, the Illinois Steel Co. having orders for a railway and bridges in Korea.

"Crop prospects are so good that the rumors customary at this season have no attention. It was stated a week ago that along the northwestern roads prospects were remarkably bright and highly favorable reports have since appeared from Kansas and Texas, and are given in dispatches from the Pacific coast.

"Failures for the week have been 241 in the United States, against 234 last year, and 32 in Canada against 29 last year."

WILLIAM SUSPENDS GROVER'S DECREE

CHIEF EXECUTIVE SIGNS THE FOREST ORDER.

Official Signature Affixed to the Compromise Amendment of the Sundry Civil Bill—To Survey Reservations—Senators Talk All Day and Make Little Progress On Tariff.

Washington, June 5.—The president signed the sundry civil bill Friday, which contains the compromise amendment concerning the forestry reservations. This amendment suspends the proclamation of President Cleveland, dated February 22 last, under which 21,000,000 acres were set aside from the public domain as forestry reservations until the 1st of next March. These reservations are in the states of Wyoming, Utah, Montana, Washington, Idaho and South Dakota. The lands embraced within them are until that date subject to sale and entry, under the laws, like any other public lands in the United States. In the meantime the secretary of the interior is directed to make a survey of the territory in question in order that the president may restore permanently such part of them as may be thought expedient without taking from the public domain any unnecessary agricultural and mineral lands, or including any lands that have already been taken up by actual settlers under the mining and lumber claims. The sweeping order of February 22 included a great deal of land that is already under pre-emption, as well as several million acres that are more valuable for agriculture than for timber. It included farms, mines and mills, which subjected the government to a great many claims for indemnification. All these can be avoided when the survey is made, and President McKinley will confirm the order of his predecessor only so far as it is necessary to preserve the forests and protect the water courses in the northwest.

Senators Reel in Oratory.

Washington, June 5.—The senate had a period of speechmaking Friday, and as a result little progress was made on the tariff bill. The advance covered about two pages, or seven paragraphs, and brought the senate up to the wood schedule, the first item of which was considered, but not completed. Mr. Mantle (Mont.) spoke for two hours on the wood schedule, urging increased rates for the wool-grower, and Mr. Butler (N. C.) made a plea in behalf of the income tax.

Signs the Railway Tax Bill.

Lansing, Mich., June 5.—The bill which the Pingree forces fought the hardest in the legislature was the Merriman bill, increasing the specific tax rates paid by railroad companies, and the last act of the governor before adjournment was to send a special message to the legislature asking that the session be extended until the bill could be perfected, he having been advised by the law faculty of the Michigan university that there is a grave question as to its unconstitutionality. Gov. Pingree signed the bill. Sixty-five other bills were also signed, and ten remain to be disposed of.

Greece Eats Humble Pie.

Athens, June 5.—The cabinet decided to sign an armistice on the following conditions: "The Greek fleet will quit Ottoman waters. Pease, was argued at Knoxville Friday. The directors, since the injunction was issued, have secured a reconsideration of the action pledging support to the Pease publication, and it is on this ground it is sought to have the injunction dissolved.

Pittsburg, Pa., June 5.—Friday was pay day at Jones & Laughlin's, and as each man was paid he was told the mill would start Monday and was asked if he intended to report for work then. The men said not unless their demands were granted. All were discharged. There are now 3,700 men on strike, and trouble is feared if an attempt is made to start with non-union men.

The garnishment bill was passed by a vote of 103 yeas to 43 nays.

The Allen street car bill as amended by the senate was passed by both houses and is now in the hands of Governor Tanner for action.

WANT CANOVAS TO STAY

Powerful Appeal Is Made to the Queen of Spain.

Madrid, June 5.—The queen regent conferred yesterday with the president of the senate, Marquis Pazo de la Merced. The latter after the conference said that he had pointed out to her majesty that the continuance in office of Senor Canovas del Castillo would constitute the best solution of the crisis. The opinion is shared by the president of the chamber of deputies, Senor A. Pidal, who is to have a conference with the queen regent today.

Marshal Martinez de Campos is on his way to Madrid, but as he is not identified with any party he is not concerned in the crisis from a political standpoint and will give his attention to other questions, especially to that relating to the Cuban question.

Senor Francisco Silvela, leader of the dissident conservatives in the chamber, is among the politicians who have been summoned to the palace.

MANY CONVICTS IN PERIL

Flames Break Out in the Prison at Lansing, Kan.

Leavenworth, Kan., June 5.—Nearly 1,000 men who are imprisoned in the state penitentiary at Lansing were in great peril Friday night. Fire broke out in the prison about 9 o'clock, and soon all the men held within the walls were in an uproar. The fire seemed to be spreading rapidly in the tailoring shop and the chapel. The imprisoned men cried and begged of their keepers to be released.

Finally the flames became so threatening that fifty convicts, all of them trustees, were released to assist the officers in their struggle with the fire.

There was no break for liberty, but the men performed their duty heroically, and the fire was quenched after a damage of about $8,000 had been done.

WILL PAY SUICIDE CLAIMS

Important Decision Reached by Head Camp of American Woodmen.

Dubuque, Iowa, June 5.—The Modern Woodmen have decided to pay suicide claims if death does not occur earlier than three years after the date of the certificate. It was ordered that no action be taken toward the removal of the headquarters earlier than June 20; also that special meeting may be called at any time at the request of the executive council. This is understood to mean that further legal trouble is expected from Fulton people on the removal of the headquarters. The next head camp will meet the first Tuesday in June, 1899, at Kansas City. The second Wednesday in February in odd numbered years was fixed as the date for state camps.

Kansas Crop Bulletin.

Topeka, Kas., June 5.—The state board of agriculture has issued a crop bulletin for May. Cool weather and abundant rains were good for wheat, and the general condition is 83, an advance of three points over the condition April 20. The same weather, so congenial to wheat, has held back corn.

Fears for Iowa's Corn Crop.

Eldora, Iowa, June 5.—Fears are entertained for the corn crop in central Iowa, on account of continued cold weather. Farmers are replanting their fields.

The Ascot Tie.

The Ascot tie is a fad among women. It looks very natty when worn with a tailor made coat. The most stylish tie of this kind is made of striped or plaid Madras in a combination of brilliant colors. This gives dash to a dark wool gown. It is now as bad taste for a woman to wear a ready made tie as for her brother, father or husband to do so, so if she dons an Ascot she has to go through the torture of learning to tie it properly, but the result is worth while. —New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Curls in the Coiffure.

There is a decided effort just now toward introducing curls into the coiffure. When it is one long ringlet hanging down the neck upon the shoulders, a revival of what was popular in this country about a quarter of a century ago, the effect is stiff and ungraceful. Two shorter ones, however, pendant from the hair massed in the middle of the back of the head, have the appearance of escaped locks, are less set and premeditated, and consequently much more picturesque.—Exchange.

Belts.

Belts of bias black satin and black satin ribbon are still a feature of dress, and the wide belt of bias satin folds drawn around a slender figure is one of the most becoming fancies. Belts of ribbon with buckles in the back are seen on many of the new thin gowns, and three bands of inch wide black velvet ribbon, spreading a little distance apart at the middle of the back, where they are fastened with small steel buckles, is another pretty belt effect.

ARREST THE WOMAN IF SHE COMES BACK

Will Charge the Lady Who Brought a Breach of Promise Suit, With Attempt to Commit Murder In Using a Gun—Some Other News of the County.

Beloit, Wis., June 5.—[Special]—Mrs. Imogene G. Johnson, now of Rockford, who is suing George Smith of this city for $25,000 for toying with her affections, is well known in police circles here. She is the woman who went out on a gunning expedition one night about five months ago, and after shooting at a Mr. Fulton was cornered by the police, and when threats to spill their blood proved of no avail she turned the revolver upon herself and sent a bullet into her head. She was informed by the authorities while still in bed suffering from what to an ordinary mortal would have proved a fatal wound, that as soon as she was able to be about she would be arrested on a charge of attempted murder. The woman at this time feigned severe illness and the police refrained from speaking of the matter further. The next day when Marshal Appleby went to visit the woman she had disappeared, having apparently received some assistance in her hasty recovery and departure. A short time ago the marshal was approached by Mr. Smith, who desired to know if it would be safe for Mrs. Johnson to return to Beloit. He was promptly assured that as soon as she set foot on Wisconsin soil she would be arrested on the charge of attempted murder.

CENTER PEOPLE'S CLOSE CALL.
Had a Narrow Escape From Dangerous Injury at Madison.

Center, June 4.—Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Orry are home from Madison. The day they started home they had a narrow escape. They, with a party, had been out fishing and on their return home were driving at full speed to meet their train. Just as they were turning a corner, they were going so fast that one of the wheels broke, but fortunately the driver stopped the team so suddenly that they all escaped with but slight bruises. Dr. George Snyder of Baraboo, spent Sunday here. School closed in District No. 1 on Friday with a program in the evening which was a credit both to the teacher and her pupils. FARMERS ARE MAD AT TELEPHONE CO.

SAY THE LINEMEN RUINED THEIR TREES.

One Man Comes to Janesville to See a Lawyer and Find Out If the Men Can Cut Off Half His Evergreens—State Law Protects the Poles.

If the story should meet the eye of any of the men engaged in building the lines of the American Telephone and Telegraph company, let it be a sufficient warning to them not to double back over the route at night, as some of the farmers whose property has been passed, are decidedly hostile. Too free use of the ax on line shade trees gives the cause for complaints.

One prominent farmer was in Janesville to consult "the best lawyer he could find" and find out what his remedy was. He told the attorney that the telephone crew passed his farm in his absence, and when he returned he hardly recognized his own vine and fig tree. Evergreen trees that were in the way were simply bared of limb on one side and other debredations were committed. The farmers were very angry, and threatened to bring proceedings against the company, to recover damages. After the line was up, he did not dare to interfere with it, as a state law prevented him from cutting down the poles, even on his own land.

Many Others Are Mad.

Farmers about Edgerton are also up in arms. The Edgerton Reporter says: "When the trimmers and line men arrive the farmers find they have sold privileges, usually for a song, of unlimited dimensions. The way they cut and slash trees is a caution. One of these farmers, boiling over with rage, dropped into our office yesterday and said he would just like to find the smooth tongued fellow that was around a few days ago and got his permission to run the line alongside of his farm just long enough to show him a few Fitzsimmons points. Our legislature, he said, would pass Arbor day laws to encourage tree planting and then grant permits to vandal corporations to go through the country and destroy thousands of dollars of property. Choice walnut and elm shade trees along his farm had been ruined by the telephone men. He advises farmers to get their shot guns ready and protect their property."

Free Offer of Samples of Sparagus Kidney Pills to be GIVEN AWAY TO-DAY.

For the Second Time At C. D. Stevens' Pharmacy.

CAUSES A SENSATION

Among the Sick People of Janesville and the Public Generally.

JULIUS HOBBS, M. D.

The announcement made in this paper for two days that a free package of Dr. Hobbs Sparagus Kidney Pills and Little Liver Pills would be given away to anyone asking for it at C. D. Stevens' Drug Store today caused an intense interest and great discussion amongst the public generally.

Many persons called during yesterday to inquire about the free samples of these pills which are to be given away today.

One gentleman, standing in the store, remarked: "The proprietors of these remedies must know that they possess intrinsic merit, or they would never spend so much money in giving away samples, to say nothing of the cost of the advertisements."

Another called, a lady, said: "I believe I will call tomorrow and get a sample, for the offer seems so fair and honest that I am inclined to place faith in the medicine, even before I get it."

It is expected that today there will be a great rush of Dr. Hobbs' wonderful pills. But no matter what the demand is, C. D. Stevens is well prepared to meet it.

All those living in Janesville or any town outside, who apply at our store today in person or write for a sample, will be welcome, and not only a

The X-Ray Used for the First Time in Janesville

DR. MELVILLE, THE SPECIALIST.

At Her Office at 105 S. Main St.—Dr. Melville, the New York Specialist, Gives a Wonderful Exhibition With the X-Ray Machine.

The people who took advantage of the invitation extended by Dr. Melville to the public to see for themselves the wonders of the X-Ray at her office, 105 South Main street, last night, were very fortunate indeed.

At the Doctor can see into and even through them is now no longer a matter of doubt. The Doctor preceded the exhibition by a few remarks explanatory of the subject and the treatment of the disease, of which she makes a specialty, stating the marvelous strides which have been recently made in the treatment of the diseases by the electrical methods, how diseases until now incurable are being restored to health by specialists in New York city. She explained that she has brought these advantages to our very doors that those who would might be saved from suffering and rescued from death.

Dr. Melville then invited her guests into her treating room, where the great machine was with many a whirl and flash generating great quantities of that wonderful fluid that makes not only the planets move and machinery toil, but causes the plants to grow and the flush and strength of health to follow the incalculable of disease. And there, by the aid of the mysterious green light that glowed in majesty and might the inmost secrets of the human frame were forced to reveal themselves. Objects could be recognized as clearly through ten inches of wood as through a window glass, bottles containing different fluids could not only be seen inside of a box, but the kind of fluid could be distinguished one from the other, different metals could be recognized, true diamonds distinguished from the imitation, a needle or pair of spectacles could be seen through great thicknesses of wood or books or even through the human body. It is with a curious sensation that one looks at his own bones in his hand or arm and criticizes their contour and articulation. It causes one so reflect that our bodies are but mere machines, easy to get out of order and easy to put in order if the right means are used. Every one speaks in the highest praise of the treatment given by Dr. Melville, and her practice is rapidly increasing. This is partly due to the influence of her patients with their friends and partly to her very moderate prices.

Her prices are gradually increasing each week. Yet no one could be more considerate of the wants of the poor than she. No one could be more frank, more candid and more honest in her examinations, for she daily turns away in as kindly manner possible many people whom she believes she cannot help. Whether they are rich or poor, willing to pay large fees or not it makes no difference to her. She has a reputation in Janesville to build and she makes no mistakes.

BUSINESS MEN ENCOURAGED.

The most accurate business barometer is that which indicates the progress of business among the banks of the country. If their loans and discounts are heavy it is an evidence that the business men are preparing for re-entering into active business pursuits. The May reports to the controller of currency show a much improved condition of the national banks of the great cities in this particular. Their loans and discounts are increasing, individual deposits are heavy and there is a general tone of improvement and an evidence of business revival which will increase from month to month when business is able to adjust itself to the new tariff.

With farmers getting more for their grain and cattle and hogs, with the business handled by the merchants of the country greater than for many years, and with our exports for 1896, $325,000,000 in excess of our imports, conditions among the people of this country cannot be so serious as the calamity shriekers would make us believe.

THEY DISAGREE ON SUGAR.

There seems to be more misunderstanding about the sugar schedule than any other part of the finance committee's tariff bill, and the report that it is going to be postponed until the rest of the bill is dealt with, will not create surprise. Many republican senators are opposed to this schedule in its present shape, and the antagonism toward it among the republicans in the house is probably much more widely extended. Of course the republicans will come to an amicable settlement of this sugar duty question without any great delay, but the debate on it will probably be more interesting than that which will be called out by any other provision of the bill.

It may have been accidental that the specifications in the call for bids for furnishing $200,000 worth of clothing for the Indians were so drawn that only one firm could bid, but Indian Commissioner Jones, who has his full share of Wisconsin sense, exercised his privilege and rejected that bid, and will advertise for new bids, with specifications which will give everybody a chance to bid. Meanwhile he will endeavor to locate the responsibility for those peculiar specifications. They were prepared under the Cleveland administration.

Congressman Jerry Simpson and "Jeems" Hamilton Lewis know that they do not worry Speaker Reed by their antics, but they also know that they are getting themselves notoriety and are thereby gratifying their egotism.

Janesville beef will be put in the same class as A. L. Luetger's Select Wienerwurst if Rockford people insist on being so critical.

For a man who says little about what he intends to do Professor Mayne has a way of getting surprising results.

THE VALLEY OF THE SHADOW

William McGee.

William McGee, one of the best known and oldest engineers on the Chicago & Northwestern railway system, died at his home, 210 Center avenue at 5:45 o'clock last evening, aged sixty-four years, the cause of his demise being asthma and heart trouble.

Mr. McGee had held positions with the railway companies for the last forty-four years. Previous to his coming to Janesville he had been employed by the Baltimore & Ohio company, but for the last sixteen years he had been a valued and trusted employee of the Chicago & Northwestern company.

Personally Mr. McGee was very popular. All who knew him were his firm friends. His duties were always performed faithfully and well. His death will cause widespread sorrow.

Beside the widow and one daughter, Miss Frankie McGee, he leaves four sisters, who make their home in Michigan.

The funeral will be held from the home at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Rev. H. W. Thompson of the First M. E. church, will officiate.

An Eminent Physician in the City.

Dr. George S. Pickett, an eminent physician of Washington, D. C., is in the city, and will be at the Myers House for one week. Dr. Pickett has had thirty-seven years' experience in the treatment of chronic and long standing diseases, and has grown gray in practice. The doctor is aware that the city has been visited by unscrupulous physicians who make claims of all kinds and who fleece the people in a scandalous manner; and he wishes to impress upon everybody's mind the fact that he undertakes no case that he cannot treat successfully. He has hundreds of recommendations from prominent people about the country, at his office, and merely desires during this visit to get acquainted with people in this vicinity. He wants his work to speak for itself and during the coming week, will make charge only for the actual medicine used in any case proved to be sure of curing or benefiting it. No patient is received that cannot be successfully treated.

PEACH TREE WORTH $1,000

Orville Church, Nurses a Small Twig to Good Advantage.

The raising of peach trees worth a thousand dollars each is what one would call a profitable business. Orville Church, who resides at the corner of Race and High streets, has a tree that he values at this price. Six years ago he accidentally discovered a small twig growing in his yard and by carefully nursing it, has developed a tree several feet in height. It has proved to be of a rare growth and is valued from the fact that from it can be taken twigs for replanting purposes. F. S. Phoenix, of Bloomington, Ill., who is considered one of the best posted nursemen in this country has written Mr. Church that he will make a trip to this city and if the tree is as represented he will purchase it at a good round price.

"BUTCHER BIRDS" AT WORK

Killed the Young of the English Sparrows and Broke Eggs.

Several persons at the corner of Main and Milwaukee streets watched, yesterday afternoon, the murderous work that was being carried on, by a "butcher bird," among the hundreds of homes of the English sparrows which dot the Lapping, Jackson and Myers blocks. Fully two hundred sparrows lined the telephone wires and watched every move that their enemy made. The butcher bird would run his sharp bill into each nest, kill the young and break the eggs. He kept this work up throughout the afternoon, hopping from one nest to the other without any interference on the part of the sparrows.

DUTCH CITIES ARE CLEAN.

Misses Jeffris and Echlin Write of Their Tour of Holland.

Holland is a quaint, peaceable and remarkably clean country, the Misses Susie Jeffris and Julia Echlin, who are now in Europe, say in a letter to Janesville relatives. They have just left Holland after a most delightful tour of the Dutch towns and cities. In the city of Amsterdam they spent a week and had a good opportunity of studying all phases of Dutch life. The cleanliness that prevailed everywhere from the streets to the houses seem to impress upon them the difference between American and Holland cities. From Amsterdam they went to Brussels.

CENTURY RUNS NOT ALL JOY

O. Sutherland Meets With Unpleasant Mishaps on His Journey.

Ex-Alderman Sutherland says that bicycle century runs are not one delicious whirl of joy. On the recent trip from Chicago he lost a valuable lamp from his wheel, and on making a record for meanness, some bicycle hater punctured seven holes in his tires while the rider stopped for a lunch at Algonquin, Ill. In spite of these mishaps he managed to complete his one hundred miles in schedule time.

GEORGE W. BLABON COMING

President of the Street Railway Company Will Visit Janesville Soon.

President George W. Blabon, of the Janesville street railway will soon visit the Bower City and see for himself just how his money has been expended in rebuilding the electric line. Mr. Blabon writes from Philadelphia that he will be here the latter part of this month or the first of next. Superintendent Cummins now estimates that Mr. Blabon has invested $10,000 in the line the greatest expense being the switch board and the motors.

MAY PUT JAIL IN THE PARK

Some County Board Members Favor Abandoning Old Site.

In case that a new county jail is built by Rock county there is a possibility that it may not be located on the present site. At the meeting of the county board in this city inquiry disclosed the fact that a few of the board thought that a jail in connection with the court house would be a good idea when it was taken into consideration that there is plenty of room. They favored building on the east side of the court house.

SEND BIBLES TO CONVICTS.

Christian Endeavor Societies Will Furnish Reading Matter.

Magazines and bibles gathered by the local Christian Endeavor societies of the Presbyterian and Congregational churches are to find the way into the state's prison at Waupun for use by the prisoners. At a recent meeting of these well known societies this move was deemed advisable. The plan of sending literature to the prisoners at Waupun is now carried on in different parts of the state, and is a move in the right direction.

TENNIS IS TO BE POPULAR.

Local Players Will Boom Their Favorite Game This Season.

The game of golf in this city this summer will have a strong rival in the ever popular game of tennis, and several clubs promise to be formed here before the summer months disappear. Two of the most popular courts are at present staked out on the McElroy property on Madison street and on the Mitchell property at the corner of Milwaukee and Academy streets. It is said that a matched game will soon be arranged among the local players.

The O. H. S. base ball team defeated the Mowhaws yesterday, by a score of 9 to 2. Smith and Farley played the points for the O. H. S. team, while Larkin and Smith officiated for the Mowhaws.

USING THE BEST OF STONE

Chicago & Northwestern Company Doing a Good Job of Work.

The best grade of stone obtainable by the Chicago & Northwestern Railroad company, has arrived in the city, to be used in building the large culvert that will run across their North River street property, from Ravine street to the river. The stone to be used for covering purposes comes from the Abelman quarry near Baraboo, while the balance of the stone is taken from the Duck Creek Quarry, near Green Bay. The men who are now working on the job are residents of Winona and La Crosse. Those now engaged in the work are: John Lentz, Gus Brieske, John Bergin, Frank Wozniak, Nick Tesch, G. H. Fitzgerald, Thomas Welcher and Joseph Baziliska.

COMING TO SEE OUR ACTORS.

Outside Cities Will Be Represented at the Opera House.

A good sized crowd from out of town will be here to witness the home production of the "Merchant of Venice." A good sized delegation will come from Albany, and as the close of the play the costumes that are used in the court scene will be taken by the Albany High school students to be used for a similar purpose. From Baraboo, Miss Carolyn Kimball writes, will come a delegation of about eighteen, while Edgerton, Beloit and Brodhead promise to be represented.

WELL KNOWN FARMER HURT

His Shoulder Was Dislocated in a Runaway Accident.

J. A. Matthews, a prominent farmer of the county who is well known in this city, is now nursing bruises as the result of a runaway accident. While visiting a creamery his horses became frightened and started to run. Mr. Matthews ran out, jumped into the vehicle but was thrown violently to the ground. His shoulder was dislocated and chloroform was used by the attending physician.

CONCERTS WILL BE HEARD

The Money Has Been Raised For the Imperial Band.

Local merchants have subscribed $100 for the giving of band concerts in this city this summer and Leader Al Kneff says that the first concert will take place about the middle of this month. The amount the band boys originally asked for was $125, but they accepted $100. The concerts would have commenced earlier, but the cold weather has changed former plans.

YES, WE WILL SEE A CIRCUS.

Walter Main's Aggregation of Wonders of the World Is Coming.

Janesville is not to be without a circus this summer. A representative of Walter Main's show was in the city yesterday and said there is little doubt but that his exhibition will pitch their tents here either the last of this month or the first of next. Main's circus is a larger affair than the Burr Robbins show, which was once the pride of this city. No other shows have as yet signified their intention of coming here.

Trim Up the Trees.

The city marshal calls the attention of property owners to the ordinance requiring that all trees in front of lots be trimmed to a height of not less than ten feet from the ground. The penalty for neglecting to comply with this ordinance is not less than five dollars nor more than ten dollars. The trees along the sidewalks generally throughout the city are not cared for as required by this ordinance, and complaints will be made by the city marshal if they are not properly trimmed at once.

ASTHMA AGONY.

Munyon Has Mastered This Living Death.

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY.

No one who has not experienced or witnessed the agonies of asthma can realize the horrors of that disease. It is little exaggeration to say that sufferers from asthma die many times. Acute paroxysms frequently result in unconsciousness and sometimes in death. Like many other diseases which have baffled medical skill for centuries, however, asthma has met its master. Munyon's Asthma Herbs will stop the most violent paroxysm of asthma in three minutes. They are compressed into triangular pastilles, the most convenient form for burning ever discovered. Used with the Asthma-Cure, they will positively and permanently cure the worst forms of asthma. Professor Munyon guarantees it. A box of Munyon's Asthma Herbs with Munyon's Asthma-Cure may be obtained from any druggist for one dollar.

Mr. Daniel W. Fink, 130 Church Street, McSherrytown, Pa., says: "A member of my family suffered from asthma for a long time. Her distress during the paroxysms of short breathing was very great. She tried a great many kinds of treatment without obtaining more than temporary relief. Finally, I placed her under treatment with the Munyon Remedies, using the Asthma Cure and Asthma Herbs, and I am pleased to testify that this treatment has completely cured her." Munyon has a separate specific for each disease. For sale by druggists. Mostly 25 cents. If in doubt, write to Professor Munyon, at Philadelphia, and get medical advice free.

SAY THE DOCTORS CAUSED HIS DEATH

SENSATION CREATED AT MONTICELLO, WIS.

Coroner's Jury Decide That Physicians Were Responsible For the Demise of a Patient Whose Brain Was Punctured With a Probe—Surgeon Had a $30 Diploma.

Monticello people are discussing a sensation. A coroner's jury has decided that the death of Fred Zuercher, who shot himself with suicidal intent, was due to the efforts of the physicians to locate the bullet in his head. In the search, Zuercher's brain was punctured, and his death followed. Zuercher shot himself on May 13. The ball was fired into his head, entering above the eyes. It then ranged downward, and was not found. Later, two physicians, it is said, made an attempt to locate the ball. They used metallic probes, which were inserted in the wound. Failing to find the ball near the surface, it is said that they pushed the probes into his head, until they met with resistance—the back of Zuercher's skull. Then they thought they had located the ball, and prepared to extract it. Marking well the point at the back of the head, they trephined the skull, cutting out a round piece of bone. No ball was found, however, and Zuercher expired in a short time.

Inquest Was Ordered.

The facts in the case became known to people in this city before Monticello people were aware of what had been done. Other physicians in Monticello were notified of the matter by Janesville people, and as the result an inquest was ordered. It was said at the time that the inquest was not necessary, etc., but the verdict of the jury was as follows:

"We, the jurors, find that Fred Zuercher shot himself, with suicidal intent, on the 13th day of May, 1897, the shot being fired from a .38 calibre revolver, the ball penetrating the skull and ranging downward through the nasal cavity. The immediate cause of his death we find, from the testimony presented by witnesses, by the physicians in charge of the case and by the physicians who made the post mortem report, was the attempt to locate and extract the bullet which was supposed to have been lodged in the brain."

M. L. BARNEY,
R. MOSHER,
JOHN RICHARDS,
JOHN BONTLEY,
F. J. BREYLER,
JACOB WITTENWYLER.

Fixes Cause of Death.

The jury clearly places the responsibility of his death on the physician who attended him, and the inquest brought forth many important facts. The physicians who made the post mortem and who were officially present at the inquest do not hesitate to say that the case was unskillfully treated from a surgeon's standpoint.

Since the inquest was held all supposition that it was instituted on the grounds of prejudice and competition have been removed and there has been no bitter feelings shown. The jury explicitly cites three sources of information in arriving at its opinion, and the verdict is a just, conservative statement. The jury consisted of three Swiss Germans and three Americans and the testimony was conclusive. The post mortem examination revealed that the ball had never penetrated the brain and the physicians explored the brain with metallic probes, which is contrary to the rules of surgery.

Got a $30 Diploma.

The evidence of the physicians themselves showed that they were guilty of a great lack of knowledge in treating the case. The fact was established that Dr. Kleiner, of Monticello, holds only a diploma from the bogus Eclectic Medical college, which was investigated by the legislature and was suppressed; that he never was examined by so-called professors in the college and that he got his diploma in consideration of $30.

What further steps will be taken in the matter is not yet known. District Attorney Harvey Clark, of Green county was in charge of the inquest and Officer Appleby of this city who happened to be in Monticello on the day the "operation" was performed, was asked to attend the inquest as a witness but could not go as he was to appear before a local court on that day.

His Eyes Straight.

Charles Schmidt, a seventeen year old boy living near this town is now enjoying a pair of straight eyes after long enduring cross eyes. Two months ago Dr. McPherson, the eye and ear specialist of Janesville, commenced treating the boy with glasses made in a special manner for correcting cross eyes. A perfect result has been obtained in a short time and without any operation. The family are greatly pleased, and praise the doctor highly. Dr. McPherson is getting many patients from this vicinity. He is believed to be very skillful.—Jefferson Banner.

JACK HESS IN JAIL AS IN DAYS OF OLD

FORMER JANESVILLE MAN
AGAIN IN LIMBO.

Is Charged With Burglarizing a Store in Walworth County, and Was Caught Near Beloit Last Night—Police Say They Have a Good Case Against Him.

Behind the bars of the Rock county jail, "Jack" Hess, a former resident of this city, and an accomplished all-around man is now lodged, charged with burglary.

William Saunders and William Morris, both alleged accomplices of Hess, are lodged in separate cells charged with the same crime.

All three men it is said, have practically admitted their guilt. The men are charged with burglarizing a general store at Spring Prairie in Walworth county, and it is said that plenty of evidence will be brought forth when the proper time comes.

Hess and his partner were arrested at Beloit this morning and brought to this city on the 11:30 train. The crime that they are charged with was committed several days ago.

The old jail had a familiar look to Hess. He has spent many a day and many a night behind its iron bars, and has also dug his way through its stone sides on numerous occasions, and escaped.

Recognized Hess.

Hess gave his name as "John Jones" at Beloit, and under that somewhat common cognomen he was known until he reached Janesville. When Sheriff Acheson got a glimpse of the prisoner however, he recognized the former Janesville man, and Jack admitted that he was "back among the old folks once again."

Beloit, June 5.—[Special]—Night Officer Whipple arrested two suspicious acting individuals about daylight this morning, who were making tracks to get over the line, each with a loaded sack over his shoulder. They tried to work the usual bluff on the officer but that did not go, and then offered him a good sum if he would let them loose, but it was of no avail. An inspection of their sacks showed one to be filled with new shoes labeled "J. A. Miller & Co." and the other to contain a number of hats and caps. The officers have not the faintest idea where the pair came from, but believe it is a good catch and will hold them pending the receipt of information from surrounding towns.

MADE A BET WITH ED. J. SCHMIDLEY, and the Man Who Volunteered to Take the Timepiece and Money To the Selected Stake Holder Has Not Been Seen Since.

The next time that Officer Michael Conroy and Edwin Schmidley make a bet, they will take more care in selecting a man to hold the stakes.

At 1:30 o'clock this morning, Officer Conroy put up his gold watch against a dollar on a bet at Schmidley's, with the understanding that Night Clerk George Clark of the Grand Hotel, was to be stakeholder.

The bet was made in Schmidley's restaurant, and a strange young man who was in there at the time, volunteered to take the stakes across the road to Mr. Clark.

At last accounts, however, he was still going, and Mr. Clark knew nothing of the bet until Officer Conroy went to claim the stakes.

The police have a good description of the stranger, and Officer Appleby was looking for him today.

T. KOHLHOFF IS ARRESTED.

Man Who Sold Diseased Meat Now in Rockford Jail.

Chief Bargman and Officer Read of Rockford, were in Janesville yesterday and returned last evening with Frank Kohlhoff, the man who sold the diseased carcass of a cow to Theodore Anderson, a Rockford meat dealer. Kohlhoff was arrested in this city. He was located by Chief Hogan immediately after he returned from Rockford. When Kohlhoff was arrested he was out walking with his wife and wheeling their little child in a carriage.

Kohlhoff did not deny that he sold the meat and did not attempt to excuse his action. He was more concerned to learn what the law would do with him.

He was asked what the meat dealer did when the latter had obtained the beef so cheaply.

"He laughed behind my back," said Kohlhoff.

"And when did you laugh?"

"On the road home," was Kohlhoff's reply.

Kohlhoff attempted to sell the beef near Janesville and also in Beloit. Not succeeding in the latter place he drove on to Rockford, arriving there Wednesday night. The following morning he sold the meat to the Seventh street dealer.

Mr. Anderson who was retailing the tainted meat to his customers, says he thought it was good meat and that his suspicions were not aroused by the fact that it had been sold to him so cheaply. He will probably not be prosecuted.

Kohlhoff was lodged in the county jail.

LEN A MADE THREATS

AUGUST NOW SAYS

ALBANY MAN GOT THE DIVORCE HE SOUGHT.

His Wife, He Swore, Said That If He Was Not Larger Than Her First Husband, She Would Tear His Head Off and Throw It Out of Doors.

On the grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment, August Asmus, aged 62, was this morning granted a divorce from his wife Lena, whose age is but 35. Both interested parties are well known and reside on a farm near Albany.

Just seven months of unhappy married life has cost August the cool sum of $1,600 in cash, an $800 house and lot in Albany, to say nothing of the many incidents.

This morning the plaintiff said that he made a bad investment when he married his wife; but when Judge Bennett informed him that it would take the above amount in order to soothe Lena's feelings in case a divorce was granted, he made no reply. The divorce was then granted.

There was no appearance this morning on the part of Mrs. Asmus, but Attorney Sherron of Green county, was here in her behalf. Mr. Asmus was on hand, and represented by Judge John M. Becker of Monroe.

Told of Lena's Alleged Threats

In his testimony this morning, Mr. Asmus stated that there was "no use talking to her" as she lived with that woman. He further told the court that some months ago he fell in love with her, in spite of the fact that she was a widow with five children—and in September last they were married. For the first few weeks August says all was lovely.

"One day I was taken sick and Lena did not nurse me as a loving wife should, but she treated me in a way that was inhuman," he said mournfully. "farther than that, she said that if I was not larger than her first husband, she would tear my head off and throw it out doors."

The plaintiff also said that at different times Lena would call him "an old dog" and "an old sheep."

Both the interested parties are well known in the county. Asmus is reported to be a wealthy and industrious farmer.

CLEVELAND TALKS.

W. S. Cleveland, the Well Known Minstrel Manager, Tells of the Most Critical Moment of His Life.

A Matter That will be of Interest to all Sufferers from Nervous Prostration and Similar Troubles.

W. S. Cleveland, the great Minstrel Manager is probably one of the best known men to-day in his profession. He, like many others in his line of business, overworked and broke down a short time ago. A very few words will describe his predicament, and how he got out of it. He says:-

"After a season of hard work, with three companies on the road I nearly wrecked myself with a series of disorders—loss of appetite and loss of sleep and numerous other troubles, until my friends and enemies alike had me booked for the Happy Hunting Grounds. I began to take Kickapoo Indian Sagwa. I surprised them. I recovered rapidly, and am now on the war-path as well as ever. Nervous prostration, and landlows everywhere will agree that I have a most excellent appetite."

Such troubles as Mr. Cleveland's, begin in a small way. Loss of appetite, dizziness after eating, pains in the head, sleeplessness, feeling of oppression, moments of deep depression, followed by exhilaration, an inability to compose oneself, and many other similar symptoms, which continue to grow worse and worse, until at last the patient finds himself afflicted with that most dreaded of all maladies—Paralysis—a disease that is veritably a living death, and for which, once firmly established, there can be no cure. The only means of treatment is the insane asylum, where the patient, unable to think for himself, is unable to even bear the irritating effect of the clothes on his back, becomes an object of loathing, even to his friends, until death releases him from his misery.

To all such sufferers, we would advise the use of Kickapoo Indian Sagwa. It is the best blood purifier and stomach, liver and kidney regulator known to man. Keep these organs right, and good health, both of body and mind, will be the result, accompanied by a good appetite, the power to sleep and enjoy sleep.

Kickapoo Indian Remedies are sold by all druggists. Kickapoo Indian Sagwa is sold at $1 per bottle.

DOCTORS TALK OF THE LAWS

The American Association Favors Examinations By State Boards.

At the meeting of the American Association of Physicians and Surgeons held at Milwaukee a resolution was adopted on the subject of medical laws. The resolution states that in view of the fact that so many of the medical laws enacted in the different states have been repealed or declared unconstitutional, the association recommends that legislation on the subject be confined principally to the matter of regulating medical colleges, especially the curriculum. The resolution also declares that the assembled physicians believe that every graduate of every medical college should be required to stand an examination at the hands of the state board or medical examiners before being allowed to graduate, and that after the candidate has passed such an examination, and received his diploma, he should be allowed to practice in any state in the union.

GIVES STRENGTH TO MEN

Free To All Who Are Weak And Worn

A METHOD TO CURE AND INCREASE THE POWER.

It is a remarkable fact that a man never appreciates the sufferings of others until he himself has passed through the fire of pain or remorse. Then it is that he looks around for those who are suffering; he wants them to profit by his experience; and he gives his time and money gladly for the benefit of others and never tires of his zeal.

There are plenty of men weak and worn out, struggling with remorse and fear, the natural outcome of habits that brought incapacity, a sense of oneness and a feeling as if the best side of life had been banished forever. Such men should write to Thomas Slater, Box 294, Kalamazoo, Mich. He will send free by mail, in a plain, sealed envelope, full particulars about the method he used, and this will enable any man to get a complete cure at home. It is the method that Mr. Slater used to cure himself of the troubles that sap the strength and vigor and also enlarged his organs to natural size. The cure was complete, so satisfying and such a wonderful change from his former condition that he will gladly tell others all about it, sending all particulars. He figures that he doesn't know of a better way to show his appreciation of his own cure and sufferings of others. There must be generous men in this world to offset the tide of avarice. Write to Mr. Slater—it will cost nothing for his description and method.

benefit of others and never tires of his zeal.

There are plenty of men weak and worn out, struggling with remorse and fear, the natural outcome of habits that brought incapacity, a sense of oneness and a feeling as if the best side of life had been banished forever.

Such men should write to Thomas Slater, Box 294, Kalamazoo, Mich. He will send free by mail, in a plain, sealed envelope, full particulars about the method he used, and this will enable any man to get a complete cure at home.

It is the method that Mr. Slater used to cure himself of the troubles that sap the strength and vigor and also enlarged his organs to natural size.

The cure was complete, so satisfying and such a wonderful change from his former condition that he will gladly tell others all about it, sending all particulars.

He figures that he doesn't know of a better way to show his appreciation of his own cure and sufferings of others.

There must be generous men in this world to offset the tide of avarice.

Write to Mr. Slater—it will cost nothing for his description and method.

CHAPTER V.
A TRIP TO THE GRAND CANYON.

I stood pondering, for no explanation that would fit the facts seemed possible. I should have considered the young fellow's story only an attempt to gain a little reputation for pluck in any way I could have accounted for the appearance and disappearance of the robbers. Yet to suppose—that seemed the only other horn to the dilemma—that the son and guests of the vice president of the Missouri Western and one of our own directors would be concerned in train robbery was to believe something equally improbable. Indeed I should have put the whole thing down as a practical joke of Mr. Cullen's party if it had not been for the loss of the registered letters. Even a practical joker would hardly care to go to the length of cutting open government mail pouches, for Uncle Sam doesn't approve of such conduct. Whatever the explanation, I had enough facts to prevent me from wasting more time on that alkali plain. Getting the men and horses back on to the cars, I jumped up on the tailboard and ordered the runner to pull out for Flagstaff. It was a run of seven hours, getting us in a little after 8, and in those hours I had done a lot of thinking, which had all come to one result—that Mr. Cullen's party was concerned in the hold up.

The two private cars were on a siding, but the Cullens had left for the Grand canyon the moment they had arrived and were about reaching there by this time. I went to 218 and questioned the cook and waiter, but they either had seen nothing or else had been primed, for not a fact did I get from them. Going to my own car, I ordered a quick supper, and while I was eating I questioned my boy. He told me that he had heard the shots and had bolted the front door of my car, as I had ordered when I went out; that as he turned to go to a safer place he had seen a man, revolver in hand, climb over the outside gate of Mr. Cullen's car, and for a moment he had supposed it a road agent till he saw that it was Albert Cullen.

"That was just after I had got off?" I asked. "Yes, sah."

"Then it couldn't have been Mr. Cullen, Jim," I declared, "for I found him up at the other end of the car."

"Tell you it wuz, Mr. Gordon," Jim insisted. "I done seen his face 'ar in de light, and he done go into Mr. Cullen's car, whar de old gentleman wuz sittin'."

That set me whistling to myself, and I laughed to think how near I had come to giving nitroglycerin to a fellow who was only shamming heart failure, for that it was Frederic Cullen who had climbed on the car I hadn't the slightest doubt, the resemblance between the two brothers being quite strong enough to deceive any one who had never seen them together. I smiled a little and remarked to myself: "I think I can make good my boast that I would catch the robbers, but whether the Cullens will like my doing it I question. What is more, Lord Ralles will owe me a bottle." Then I thought of Madge and didn't feel as pleased over my success as I had felt a moment before.

By 9 o'clock the posse and I were in the saddle and skirting the San Francisco peaks. There was no use of pressing the ponies, for our game wasn't trying to escape, and for that matter, couldn't, as the Colorado river wasn't passable. It was a lovely moonlight night, and the ride through the pines was as pretty a one as I remember ever to have made. It set me thinking of Madge and of our talk the evening before and of what a change 24 hours had brought. It was lucky I was riding an Indian pony, or I should probably have landed in a heap. I don't know that I should have cared particularly if a prairie dog burrow had made me dash my brains out, for I wasn't happy over the job that lay before me.

We watered at Silver Spring at quarter past 12. From that point we were clear of the pines and out on the plain, so we could go a better pace. This brought us to the half way ranch by 2, where we gave the ponies a feed and an hour's rest. We reached the last relay station just as the moon set, about 3:40, and, as all the rest of the ride was through coconino forest, we held up there for daylight, getting a little sleep meanwhile.

We rode into the camp at the Grand canyon a little after 8, and the deserted look of the tents gave me a moment's fright, for I feared that the party had gone. Toifree explained, however, that some had ridden out to Moran Point and the rest had gone down Hance's trail. So I breakfasted, and then took a look at Albert Cullen's Winchester. That it had been recently fired was as plain as the Grand canyon itself. Throwing back the bar, I found an empty cartridge shell, still oily from the discharge. That completed the tale of seven shots. I didn't feel absolutely safe till I had asked Toifree if there had been any shooting of echoes by the party, but his denial rounded out my chain of evidence. Telling the sheriff to guard the bags of the party carefully, I took two of the posse and rode over to Moran's. Sure enough, there were Mr. Cullen, Albert and Captain Ackland. They gave a shout at seeing me, and even before I had reached them they called to know how I could come so soon and if I had caught the robbers. Mr. Cullen started to tell his pleasure at my rejoicing the party, but my expression made him pause, and it seemed to dawn on all three that the Winchester across my saddle and the cowboys' resting nonchalantly on the revolvers in their belts had a meaning.

"Mr. Cullen," I said, "I've got a very unpleasant job on hand, which I don't want to make any worse than need be. Every fact points to your party as guilty of holding up the train last night and stealing those letters. Probably you weren't all concerned, but I've got to go on the assumption that you are all guilty till you prove otherwise."

"Aw, you're joking," drawled Albert.

"I hope so," I said. "But for the present I've got to be English and treat the joke seriously."

"What do you want to do?" asked Mr. Cullen.

"I don't wish to arrest you gentlemen unless you force me to," I said, "for I don't see that it will do any good. But I want you to return to camp with us."

They assented to that, and, single file, we rode back. When there, I told each that he must be searched, to which they submitted at once. After that we went through their baggage. I wasn't going to have the sheriff or cowboys tumbling over Miss Cullen's clothes, so I looked over her bag myself. The prettiness and daintiness of the various contents were a revelation to me, and I tried to put them back as neatly as I had found them. But I didn't know much about the articles, and it was a terrible job trying to fold up some of the things. Why, there was a big pink affair, lined with silk, with bits of ribbon and lace all over it, which nearly drove me out of my head, for I would have defied mortal man to pack it so that it shouldn't muss. I had a funny little feeling of tenderness for everything, which made fussing over it all a pleasure, even while I felt all the time that I was doing a sneak act and had really no right to touch her belongings. I didn't find anything incriminating, and the posse reported the same result with the other baggage. If the letters were still in existence, they were either concealed somewhere or were in the possession of the party in the canyon. Telling the sheriff to keep those in the camp under absolute surveillance, I took a single man, and, saddling a couple of mules, started down the trail.

We found Frederic and "Captain" Hance just dismounting at the Rock cabin, and I told the former he was in custody for the present and asked him where Miss Cullen and Lord Ralles were. He told me they were just behind. But I wasn't going to take any risks, and, ordering the deputy to look after Cullen, I went on down the trail. I couldn't resist calling back:

"How's your respiration, Mr. Cullen?"

He laughed and called, "Digitalis put me on my feet like a flash." I said to myself, "He's got the most brains of any man in this party."

The trail at this point is very winding, so that one can rarely see 50 feet in advance, and sometimes not 10. Owing to this, the first thing I knew I plumped round a curve on to a mule, which was patiently standing there. Just back of him was another, on which sat Miss Cullen, and, standing close beside her, was Lord Ralles. One of his hands held the mule's bridle, the other held Madge's arm, and he was saying, "You owe it to me, and I will have one, or if"—

I swore to myself and coughed aloud, which made Miss Cullen look up. The moment she saw me she cried, "Mr. Gordon! How delightful!" even while she grew as red as she had been pale the moment before. Lord Ralles grew red, too, but in a different way.

"Have you caught the robbers?" cried Miss Cullen.

"I'm afraid I have," I answered.

"What do you mean?" she asked.

I smiled at the absolute innocence and wonder with which she spoke and replied, "I know now, Miss Cullen, why you said I was braver than the Britishers."

"How do you know?"

I couldn't resist getting in a side shot at Lord Ralles, who had mounted his mule and sat scowling. "The train robbers were such thoroughgoing duffers at the trade," I said, "that if they had left their names and addresses they wouldn't have made it much easier. We Americans may not know enough to deal with real road agents, but we can do something with amateurs."

"What are we stopping here for?" snapped Lord Ralles.

"I'm sure I don't know," I responded.

"Miss Cullen, if you will kindly pass us, and then if Lord Ralles will follow you, we will go on to the cabin. I must ask you to keep close together."

"I stay or go as I please, and not by your orders," said Lord Ralles.

"Out in this part of the country," I said calmly, "it is not good form for an unarmed man to argue with one who carries a repeating rifle. Kindly follow Miss Cullen." And, leaning over, I struck his mule with the loose ends of my bridle, starting it up the trail.

When we reached the cabin, the deputy told me that he had made Frederic strip and had searched his clothing, finding nothing. I ordered Lord Ralles to dismount and go into the cabin.

"For what?" he demanded.

"We want to search you," I answered.

"I don't choose to be searched," he protested. "You have shown no warrant, now!"

I wasn't in a mood toward him to listen to his talk. I swung my Winchester into line and said: "I was sworn in last night as a deputy sheriff and am privileged to shoot a train robber on sight. Either dead or alive, I'm going to search your clothing inside of ten minutes, and if you have no preference as to which condition you are in when it's done I certainly haven't."

That brought him down off his high horse—that is, mule—and I sent the deputy in with him, with directions to toss his clothes out to me, for I wanted to keep my eye on Miss Cullen and her brother, so as to prevent any legdramatic on their part.

One by one the garments came flying through the door to me. As fast as I finished examining them I pitched them back, except—well, as I have thought it over since then I have decided that I did a mean thing and have regretted it. But just put yourself in my place and think of how Lord Ralles had talked to me as if I was his servant, had refused my apology and thanks and been as generally "nasty" as he could, and perhaps you won't blame me that, after looking through his trousers, I gave them a toss which, instead of sending them back into the hut, sent them over the edge of the trail. They went down 600 feet before they lodged in a poplar, and if his lordship followed the trail he could get round to them, but there would then be 100 feet of sheer rock between the trail and the trousers. "I hope it will teach him to study his Lord Chesterfield to better purpose, for, if politeness doesn't cost anything, rudeness can cost considerable," I chuckled to myself.

My amusement didn't last long, for my next thought was, "If those letters are concealed on any one, they are on Miss Cullen." The thought made me lean up against my mule and turn hot and cold by turns.

A nice situation for a lover!

A Chapter on Colds

SIMPLE PRECAUTIONS THAT MAY PREVENT SERIOUS CONSEQUENCES.

The Danger of Neglecting a "Common Cold." Serious and Often Fatal Maladies may Result from Carelessness.

From the News, Harrisonburg, La.

In most instances colds are the result of imprudence or a lack of forethought. Even in cases where a sudden change in the weather or an unavoidable exposure is responsible for the first slight cold, fresh and more severe colds may be avoided by observing a little care. But "a mere cold" is such a common thing and causes so little inconvenience that notwithstanding all previous experiences we neglect to take the most simple precautions, in the way of wearing suitable clothing, the avoidance of draughts, etc.

One should always bear in mind the necessity of exercising a constant vigilance to avoid catching cold. When the temperature in the house is higher than that out of doors, never go out without putting on an additional wrap. Never sit in a cold room even though you do not feel chilly. And it is better to suffer a little discomfort from wearing heavy underclothing than to run the risk of a chill.

The following letter from a lady in Sicily Island, La., graphically illustrates the distressing consequences that are liable to follow a simple cold.

"In February, 1896, I had a severe cold which settled on my lungs, resulting in a serious cough. My appetite failed, and I became so weak that I was scarcely able to walk across the room. I weighed only ninety-four pounds, and had given up all hope of recovery when I happened to read an article in a newspaper describing some cures effected by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and concluded to try them."

"I commenced using them, and before I had taken half a box I felt like a new creature. My appetite was restored, my cough grew less, and I was able to sleep soundly at night, which I had been unable to do for months before."

"After taking two boxes of the pills I was weighed again and to my astonishment my weight was 113 pounds, a gain of 19 pounds. Previous to taking the pills I had suffered with cold hands and feet, but now have no trouble whatever from that source."

"I can truly say I am now in better health than I have been for years. The effect of the Pink Pills is wonderful, and I can recommend them in all cases of debility and weakness."

MRS. A. L. STAFFORD.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills contain, in a condensed form, all the elements necessary to give new life and richness to the blood and restore shattered nerves. They are an unfailing specific for such diseases as locomotor ataxia, partial paralysis, St. Vitus' dance, sciatica, neuralgia, rheumatism, nervous headache, the heart, pale and sallow complexions, all forms of weakness either in male or female. Pink Pills are sold by all dealers, or will be sent post paid on receipt of price, 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50 (they are never sold in bulk or by the 100), by addressing Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

CHICAGO MARKETS BY WIRE.

Chicago, June 5.—[Special].—Wheat has lost about a cent since last Saturday. There is no good reason for it except the season and speculative dullness. Indiana reports somewhat better prospects but Ohio, Missouri and Kansas show deterioration and the rose reports from Texas and Oklahoma are pure fabrications. Kansas is estimated to produce 8 1/2 million bushels. Last year at this time they expected seven million. When the wheat is threshed and measured to be over thirty million in Kansas I will believe it, but not before. There may be wheat enough raised but I doubt that at all, but it is just as well to be a little conservative. There is going to be big demand for wheat from every quarter from now on. The demand the past week has been very good indeed. Chicago has shipped an average of 100,000 bushels per day, and clearances of wheat alone are over a million. The stock of wheat in Chicago will be four and a half million bushels next Monday, and possibly the supply will decrease one and a half million compared with one hundred and ninety-three thousand bushels a year ago.

The bear views so general in June are largely based on the theory that July will bring us large supplies of new wheat, so it may be interesting to quote history: In 1890 the total receipts of old and new wheat received in Chicago during the month of July was 93,000. In 1891 they were 2,657,000. In 1892, about two and a half million, in 1893, a million and a half, in 1894, two million; in 1895, only 760,000, and in 1896, two and a half million, and over half of it in the last weeks. The average for seven years is 1,870,000.

The stock of wheat for the last four years in Chicago was eighteen million bushels and for the years 1890, 1892 it was four and a half million or the sale as it is today, but the price then was $5 to 102 in June and July.

From the above it will be noted that Chicago never received any large quantity of wheat in July and this year with crops late and with interior exhausted the chances are that we will not receive seven hundred thousand wheat all told in July and we will receive nothing at all unless St. Louis and Toledo drops down below us in prices. BEDRIDDEN.

FIFTEEN YEARS OF SUFFERING.

The Doctors Wanted Seven Hundred Dollars to Attempt the Cure.

The following is a letter we received a short time ago from Mrs. M. C. Hinkley, 602 North Mississippi St., Indianapolis, Ind.
Gentlemen:—While suffering intensely from piles, I became interested in your advertisement in one of our daily papers and procured a package of your Pyramid Pile Cure from our druggist. Contrary to any expectations, the relief was instantaneous. I used two boxes of the Pile Cure and one of the Pills and am convinced that they are the only sure cure for piles on the market. I have been a sufferer from piles for fifteen years and have been confined to my bed about one-half of the time, expecting and wishing for death for the pain was so great. I went to the college here and the doctors said my case was a new one to them, the great pain having brought on a large rupture, which they wanted seven hundred dollars to cut out. I was very much afraid that death would result from the blood poisoning which they said would result from the operation. I feel as though I can't praise the Pyramid Pile Cure and the Pyramid Pills too highly, as I am convinced that they saved my life. Before using your cure I weighed only ninety pounds and now I weigh one hundred and fifty and feel as well as I ever did in my life. You are at liberty to use this testimonial in any manner you may see fit, as I want all sufferers from this terrible disease to know that there has at last been compounded a remedy that will cure piles.
MRS. M. C. HINKLEY.

There is no need of the danger, pain and expense of a surgical operation for any form of piles. The Pyramid Pile Cure does the work without pain and is the safest and best. Remember also that the Pyramid Pills are a certain cure for constipation, acting without griping and restoring natural action to the bowels.

The Pyramid Pile Cure is sold by druggists at 50 cents and $1.00, and the Pyramid Pills at 25 cents, or by mail from Pyramid Co., Albion, Mich.
